

Bishop Stang Senior, Addison Landry, Selected as Heisman Winner

Addison Landry with her selection paperwork for the Heisman competition.

Bishop Stang Senior and Falmouth resident, Addison Landry, was named a finalist for the State of Massachusetts by the Wendy's High School Heisman competition. Of all the applicants that apply, 10 senior men and 10 senior women are selected as finalists for the State. Addison received a Bronze Medal, Heisman Patch and Wendy's gift card as part of her recognition.

"As a three season athlete in soccer, track and softball during her high school years at Bishop Stang, Addison has continuously demonstrated leadership, teamwork and school spirit," said Dan Dias, Bishop Stang Guidance Counselor and football coach. "Addison is a well deserving recipient of the Wendy's Heisman competition, and I am confident that Addison will continue on her path of excellence and contributions to her school and community during her college years and beyond.”

Through the Wendy’s High School Heisman, this scholar athlete program elevates students by making it possible for them to take advantage of new opportunities, ensuring they are recognized for a job well done, and inspiring them to continue achieving their best.

For more information on the award, see wendyshighschoolheisman.com/.
