

Cape Cod Hells Angels ensure that 40 kids and local homeless have a Christmas

The Cape Cod Hells Angels Motorcycle Club is a non-profit organization that promotes motorcycle safety and participates in various fundraising throughout the year.

During the holiday season, they host their annual toy drive in hopes of giving to children living in local shelters with their families. "The bags are ready to be distributed out to the homeless," said Jeremy Borges. "In each bag there are hand warmers, socks, gloves, toothbrush, toothpaste, deodorant, pads for ladies, a bag of snacks, and 6 waters. We are also handing out clothing. To those who had donated we thank you, we appreciate it."

Each year they appeal to local communities to help in the hopes of fulfilling the wishes of 40 children ranging in age from newborn to 16-years of age by dropping off donations at Lexis Road Dogs at 175 State Road in Westport. Their phone number is 508-817-1354 and their Facebook page is Gifts of an Angel.

All photos and videos by the Cape Cod Hells Angels:

