

Honey Dew to replace Dunkin' at two New Bedford locations

As reported on Tuesday, the Dunkin' (formerly and better known as Dunkin' Donuts) at 113 Conway Street just off Route 18 in New Bedford is closing – planning to open at a different spot in New Bedford in the future.

Carlos Mota, the owner of several Honey Dews already operating in New Bedford confirmed that he will be opening a new Honey Dew at the 113 Conway Street location on August 1st. He also reported that he will be opening another new Honey Dew at 1014 Kempton Street on September 2nd. The location is currently operated by Dunkin'.

Dunkin' opened a new location in the north end New Bedford Business park at 207 Theodore Rice Blvd in January of this year and looks to be moving a few locations, not reducing their New Bedford footprint.
