

Large piece of debris smashes through car window on Route 95

According to the Massachusetts State Police, this morning at about 10:40 a.m. on Route 95 south in Waltham, a piece of debris went through the windshield of a Honda Odyssey. This caused non-life threatening facial injuries. The operator was transported to Massachusetts General Hospital.

A Piece of debris which is believed to be a metal piece from a tractor-trailer designed to hold a tire mud flap in place went through the windshield.