

Massachusetts State Police K9 "Hulk" is gifted with ballistic vest

On Thursday, Jan. 30, the Community Animal Hospital in Shrewsbury presented a donation to the Massachusetts Vest-a-Dog non-profit organization that is being used to purchase a ballistic vest for K9 Hulk.

Hulk and his handler, Massachusetts State Police Trooper Nicholas Dumas, as well as MSP Sgt. David Stucenski and his partner, K9 Frankie, attended the presentation. Sgt. Stucenski and Trooper Dumas and their K9 partners are assigned to the MSP Special Tactical Operations Team, the department's specialized tactical entry and arrest team.

The Department is extremely grateful to the wonderful folks at Community Animal Hospital and Inn & Spa and Mass-Vest-a-Dog for providing this important piece of gear for Hulk and for their ongoing support of the Massachusetts State Police.

Community Animal Hospital and Inn & Spa

Massachusetts State Police photos:

