

New Bedford Farmers Markets 2013

by Michael Silvia

It's nearly summertime again in New Bedford, which means great weather, visits to local beaches and of course farmers' markets. Farmers' markets provide us with fresh, locally-grown and often organic, produce at a great price. As a supporter of small business and someone that ensures vegetables make up the majority of every meal, I visit farmers' markets every chance I get. From early July through late October, New Bedford hosts three farmers' markets on three different days of the week. Here is a list of the three New Bedford farmers' market locations with times and details on each.

New Bedford Farmers' Markets List

Clasky Common Farmers
Market

Brooklawn Park Farmers' Market (July 8th – Oct 28th, 2013) –

MONDAY

Location: Brooklawn Park, Ashley Blvd Entrance east of Carlisle Street

Time: Mondays, 2-6pm

Details: Shoppers can pay with Cash, WIC FMNP Coupons, or Seniors' Coupons.

Downtown New Bedford Farmers' Market (July 12th – October 25th, 2013) – THURSDAY

Location: New Bedford Public Library (613 Pleasant Street) front steps.

Time: Thursdays, 2-6pm

Details: TBA

Clasky Common Farmers' Market (July 6th – October 26th, 2013) – SATURDAY

Location: Pleasant Street, between Pope and Pearl Streets

Time: Saturdays, 9am – 1pm

Details: Cash, SNAP/EBT, WIC FMNP Coupons, or Seniors' Coupons.