

New Bedford Guide's One Year Anniversary

NewBedfordGuide.com celebrated its first birthday on August 11th, 2011. To date, we have published over 363 articles and press releases. We reach about seven thousand local readers and our Facebook page receives about 400,000 monthly post views. Our articles inform New Bedford and SouthCoast Massachusetts readers on local events, news, business spotlights, reviews and more. Most of our articles are written by local, non-professional writers and our press releases come from local non-profits and from the city of New Bedford.

Our overall view is that NewBedfordGuide.com is YOUR voice for New Bedford and surrounding communities. While we do pay our bills with advertising dollars, we don't charge non-profits, the city of New Bedford and writers to get important messages out. In fact, we pay writers for original content. While we can't publish every item that is sent to us (we can't publish a press release about your lemonade stand), we do publish many articles and press releases a month. Send your press releases and original stories to info@newbedfordguide.com. Also, send us your feedback because we love to hear them!

As we turn 1 year old, there are many people we'd like to thank. Thanks to Adam DiOrio, Matthew Neumann, Noah Griffith and the two dozen writers and graphic designers that have contributed to the site. Over the past year, New Bedford Guide has become YOUR community voice for New Bedford, and it couldn't have been accomplished without those that contributed. Use NewBedfordGuide.com as your source to get information out to the community. Share your knowledge and passion by writing a few articles and we will do our best to get thousands of readers to pay attention. Take a moment to tell a friends about NewBedfordGuide.com by sharing articles through e-mail, Facebook sharing, Twitter and other means. With your help NewBedfordGuide.com will have an even better second year.

As a special thank you to all our readers, look for ticket giveaways to the ChowderFest, Whaling City Screening, Oktoberfest, and many other great local events! Find the giveaways on our New Bedford Guide Facebook Page. If you're interested in writing for New Bedford Guide, please contact us at info@newbedfordguide.com.
