

New Bedford Local Cultural Council announces grant awardees for 2022

The New Bedford Local Cultural Council (NBLCC) is pleased to announce the grant awardees for 2022. New Bedford was allocated a total of $119,600 to distribute during the 2022 grant cycle. This funding is granted to individuals, groups, and agencies whose projects enhance the arts, science, and humanities in the city of New Bedford.

Each year, volunteer council members sift through dozens of applications. The Council grants to those that promote and improve the quality of life for residents of New Bedford by providing venues that enhance education, diversity, arts, humanities, and interpretive sciences. Based on a survey of New Bedford residents in the summer of 2021, projects were prioritized that feature outdoor performances and free programming, support individual artists, and include an audience of marginalized and underserved populations.

The Council strives to fund as many projects as possible. This year, 69 of the 74 applicants were chosen for awards. The NBLCC salutes the creativity of all those that applied for grants and took the time to read and apply the Council's priorities.

For those that would like to apply for next year's grant cycle, go to the New Bedford Local Cultural Council website: <https://www.mass-culture.org/new-bedford>

Note that the present application dates and council priorities have not yet been updated from last year. These dates and priorities will be changed in August and the application opens in September. Deadline for applications has been October 15 in the past, although this could change due to Covid-related variables.

The council maintains a Facebook page which shares information pertaining to grant due dates. Follow them at Facebook.com/NBCulturalCouncil.
