

New Bedford man stabbed three times on David Street

This afternoon at approximately 1pm New Bedford police south end units were sent to the 100 block of David St. for a male that had been stabbed. Officers found the 26 year old New Bedford man in a nearby apartment with stab wounds to the upper torso and abdomen areas. It appears that he was stabbed three times. He was transported to Rhode Island Hospital in critical condition.

It appears that an argument ensued at the corner of Salisbury and David St. between the victim and another male. At some point the victim was stabbed.

Detectives are currently interviewing witnesses. Anyone with information is asked to contact Detectives at 508-991-6300 ext. 320 or leave an anonymous tip at 508-961-4584.
