

New Bedford's seaport displays new art to celebrate Art Walk's 10th anniversary

2023 marks the 10 year anniversary of New Bedford's Seaport Art Walk! In celebration, artists were invited to submit artwork to fill "our city's ever-changing artistic and cultural landscape, or commemorates the generations of creatives that have called New Bedford home." as described on Newbedfordcreative.org.

Let's checkout some of the new artwork you will see!

Donna Dodson, "Seagull Cinderella" (2016/2023): A provocative piece first seen ruffling some feathers at the 2016 Seaport Art Walk, celebrating all things feminine, maternal, and fun.

Andrew Hamilton Reiss & Heather Cronin-Bachstein, “What You Sea” (2023): An immersive art installation that explores the interconnectedness between humans and the sea, urging viewers to contemplate their relationship with the marine environment.

This year's exhibition also includes an indoor component, displayed at the Groundwork Gallery at 1213 Purchase Street, along with many more great displays spread around the seaport to celebrate 10 years of amazing art. Grab a cup of coffee from one of New Bedford's fantastic local coffee shops and take a stroll along the seaport to experience it yourself!
