

NSTAR scam hits Fairhaven and surrounding area

According to the Fairhaven Police Department, some businesses in Fairhaven and surrounding area have received a phone call from a male party stating their electricity will be shut off within an hour due to money owed to NSTAR Electric. The caller has instructed business owners to contact him at a telephone number he provides them to make arrangements for payment.

Anyone receiving a call similar in nature is advised not to call him or provide any information to him. If you receive a phone call like this you are advised to contact their utility company directly to inquire about their account status.
