

South Coast Music Together the Dartmouth Farmer's Market this summer!

This summer South Coast Music Together is excited to be offering six Storytime Singalongs, featuring the Music Together Storytime Songbooks.

SCMT will be rocking out in Rex Field, June 20, from 1:00 – 5:00 PM. Kick off your shoes, dance in the cool grass, find some wonderful goods, and delectable foods, all from local business owners.

South Coast Music Together helps families develop musical skills, simply by actively playing and creating music. Children from birth to six, and caregivers meet for weekly classes, and sing, move, play instruments, and enjoy rich family time together.

Classes are enrolling now, for the eight week summer session, and families are encouraged to visit a free class, to experience the fun for themselves. Join SCMT at the Dartmouth

Farmer's Market in Padanaram Village, on June 20, from 1:00-5:00 PM, and play along, have your questions answered, and get a sneak peak at the new Music Together Singalong Storybooks. Learn more about SCMT, and sign up for a free visit, via the South Coast Music Together website.

This summer South Coast Music Together is excited to be offering six Storytime Singalongs, featuring the Music Together Storytime Songbooks. These are per diem classes, open to children from birth to eight, and beyond. Stories will be read, and sung, new verses written, and through play we will engage in the literacy components of music making. We cannot have a sing along, with some jamming, so instruments will come out, for all to play too!
