

St. Peter's Episcopal Church to open doors to those struggling with addiction, in recovery

St. Peter's Episcopal Church, 351 Elm Street, Dartmouth, will offer a special Service of Hope and Healing for anyone struggling with addiction, those in recovery as well as their family, friends and supporters on Tuesday, October 18, 2016 at 7:00PM.

In light of the opioid epidemic on the South Coast, this service of hope and healing is open to anyone in the local community who is struggling with any type of addiction. It is open to folks of any denomination or no denomination. Our purpose in hosting this evening is to help people know that they are not alone, in the midst of what might seem like a very isolating experience. All are welcome to attend this service no matter where they are on their spiritual journey.

This service is offered by St. Peter's Episcopal Church and The Bridge: A Center for Hope and Healing, 351 Elm Street, Dartmouth.
